Said He Did Not Live There

ONLY ELECTION CASE CONSIDERED BY JURY

Policeman Stationed at Polling Places With List of 128 Registrants Ineligible to Cast Ballot.

An indictment charging illegal voting was voted this afternoon by the new grand jury against John Hade, who was arrested earlier in the day at the polling place of the Fifth Ward, Thirteenth Precinct, 1803 Morgan street. Hade was arrested after he had voted from 1803 Morgan street. Mrs. Alice Hill, keeper of the rooming house at that address, told the police Hade did not live there, although he insisted he did. After Mrs. Hill had testified before the grand jury this afternoon, the indictment was voted. A policeman previously went before the grand jury with information as to Hade's arrest. After his arrest Hade had been released on bond of $1500. Hade's case was the only election case considered by the grand jury, which remained in session to give immediate consideration to any election fraud case which might be brought before it. The offices of the sheriff and the clerk of the Criminal Court also were open to facilitate any needed work in the making out of commitments or serving warrants.

Policemen stationed at the polls had lists of the 128 names on which indictments charging fraudulent registration were voted by the last grand jury and were instructed to arrest any fraudulently voting one of those names. They also had a complete list of names which had been stricken off the registration lists by Election Board canvassers after the revision made at polling places March 11. The board recommended 21 out of the 600 precincts and found that 4621 persons on the registration list were not entitled to vote. In the same precincts the board recommended that 846 names be stricken off the list. The board also recommended that 1180 names be stricken off the list. The list given to the policemen also included about 846 names registered in violation of the law after a recent canvass by policemen under the direction of Lieut. McCullen.

Arrests of persons attempting to vote these suspected names will be made in cases where the judges and clerks on duty in the precinct so request.

Said He Had Information. W. Frank Carter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who tried to Gov. Hyde and wrote to President Miller of the Police Board that he had information of election frauds, appeared as a witness before the grand jury today.

In reply to a message to the Governor that it would fully investigate any information which Carter might furnish, the Board of Election Commissioners yesterday received the following letter from Gov. Hyde:

"Thank you for your telegram of Friday, regarding the investigation and canvass which you have been conducting. I sincerely hope Mr. Carter will be able to produce evidence of a concrete character, which the guilty can be proceeded against. I am personally grateful to each of you for your efforts to guarantee a fair election."

The first arrest made at the polls today was a mistake and was followed by a police apology to James W. Tucker, a watchman, who has lived for 20 years at 944 Chestnut street. Owing to a clerical error in the Election Commission's office the list furnished to the police canvassers gave the address of Tucker's registration as 944 Market street. He was reported "not found" at that address. When he voted at the Sixth Ward, Fifth Precinct, polling place, 19 South Tenth street, he was arrested. After being taken to Central District Station he proved his right to vote and was released.

Arrests in Seventh Ward.

Five arrests had been made in precincts in the Carr Street Police District up to 11 a. m. Two men arrested proved their right to vote and

ENGLAND PLANS DRASTIC STEPS TO PROTECT STATE IN COAL MINERS' STRIKE

Workers Triple Alliance, Representing 3,000,000
Men, Expected to Quit Work Wednesday—
Army May Be Used to Maintain Order.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and New York World.

LONDON, April 5.—The Government is taking upon itself drastic powers to deal with the coal crisis and the even more serious situation that will arise if the transport workers and railroad men strike with the miners as they are threatening.

Emergency regulations issued last night will enable the authorities to take possession or control all mines, coal stores, land, buildings, transport facilities and equipment, lighting, plants, railways, tramways, waterways, shipping, docks, gas works and power stations.

The first of the critical Triple Alliance here to transport workers and railroad men) conferences will open tomorrow with a meeting of the transport workers' federation, whose branches last night decided to support the miners. The formal decision on the question of joining the strikers will be taken on Wednesday, and there seems little doubt that the decision will be favorable to this course. The railway men are known to favor this as a means of preventing wage reductions in all other industries.

Situation Called Critical. The situation is undoubtedly of the most critical character, not only for industry, but for the safety of public order. No day has yet been named by either side toward peace. For three hours this morning the 400 delegates of the National Transport Workers' Federation, assembled here to consider the attitude of the organization toward the strike of the miners, debated the strike question without reaching a decision. The conference adjourned short of noon until 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This afternoon the National Executive Board of the Transport Workers' union continued its consideration of the question of joining the miners in their strike. The coal owners, attacked by big industrial organizations, say they have advised Premier Lloyd George that they are prepared to fight it out now, as they cannot carry on any longer the unused conditions which have been created by the Triple Alliance holding a club over their heads perpetually. This advice would be in line with the Premier's own inclinations, as revealed in his recent anti-labor pronouncement.

Lloyd George to Save Mines. Indeed, it is openly charged that he is trying to force labor to extremes as a part of this policy, and it is feared that he will be successful if the miners will not listen to any discussion of their differences and allow the mines to be flooded and destroyed.

The coal owners' case, that they cannot afford the present high cost of production, is weakened by the drastic character of the wage cuts proposed. The miners' case, that the amount to 50 per cent. On the other hand, the railway men and transport workers have indicated, informally but none the less clearly, their desire to fight to a finish lest a compromise now would give a precedent for general wage reductions in their ranks on the same scale.

The Daily Herald, organ of labor, asserts that large numbers of troops were released. Three others were held for further investigation.

George Monahan, 46 years old, released on bonds of $25,000, North Fourteenth street in the Fifth Ward, Seventh Precinct, Lieut. Gerk reported that after the arrest Monahan admitted to him that he lives at 1212 Franklin avenue and the man whom he met on the street several days ago asked him to vote from the North Fourteenth street address.

Frank C. de Witt was arrested at the Fourth Ward, First Precinct polling place, 1104 North Broadway, after he had voted from 1029A North Third street. The police canvass report showed he moved from that address to 225 Biddle street six weeks ago.

George Monahan and De Witt were released on bonds of $25,000 each, signed by Martin Hyland, a commission merchant, and approved by Judge Hochfelder. They are returnable April 9.

The four Election Commissioners were making rounds of the polling places. Each commissioner planned to cover seven wards. They started early and in some cases a commissioner was at a polling place when the voting began.

WIFE AND DAUGHTER DISAPPEAR

Charles Gombos, a butcher of Forty-second street and Forest boulevard, East St. Louis, today reported to Police Sgt. James K. Ewing that his wife, Amelia, 43 years old, and his daughter, Gladys, 15, had disappeared Saturday.

He also reported that a boarder at his house disappeared at the same time. The wife of the boarder, who returned to East St. Louis about two weeks ago from Hungary, said that her husband had taken with him $1160 of his savings. Gombos said his wife and daughter had taken jewelry valued at $1400.

are being brought back to England from Ireland and a Malta dispatch to Reuters Limited states that an infantry battalion, which has reached there from Mesopotamia, has been ordered to England, presumably in connection with the crisis.

Desperate efforts continue to save more mines from being flooded. Students at Birmingham University have volunteered to run pumps in mines throughout that district, while Baron Bledisloe and his son are operating pumps in their colliery at Lydney.

British Labor Leader in U. S. Says 3,000,000 Will Join Strikers.

NEW YORK, April 5.—John J. Jones, organizer of the British Labor party, one of whose announced purposes in coming to this country is to prevent further export to Europe of American coal, said yesterday he had just received by cable "official" inside information that by tomorrow night the British National Union of Railway Workers and the General Transport Workers' Federation will have declared strikes in sympathy with the miners.

These three British labor bodies comprise the Triple Alliance, in which there are 3,000,000 workers, and which, according to Jones, can paralyze every industry in Great Britain by putting into effect the "thirtieth rule" and declaring a general strike. The only way Great Britain can prevent this, Jones asserted, is by Parliament considering and passing the mines nationalization bill, a proposed measure which the Government has not yet admitted for discussion.

Jones, who was seen by newspapermen yesterday afternoon at the offices of the Irish-American Labor League, explained he is here also to "give the Irish workers in America hell." At a meeting to be held tonight in Bohemian Hall, under the auspices of the league, to consider a campaign for Irish relief, Jones will, he said, "outline a plan by which, with the co-operation of the Irish, British and Irish-American workers, we can bring the Irish to give complete independence to Ireland."

He pointed out that Irish workers are largely in control of the water fronts, and insisted they should work within their unions and declare a boycott on British shipping, despite the fact that the British government has not admitted there was a discrepancy, but said that he was not responsible for the full amount. On the way back from Los Angeles, McDermott, by his frankness, made an impression on Sheriff Little, his custodian. After reaching Edgewood, he was released on bond. Recently he signed his intention of pleading guilty and asked the Sheriff if he would be permitted to make the trip to the penitentiary alone. The Sheriff gave consent.

Older residents of Edgewood remarked that it was the first time in the history of Madison County, so far as they knew, that a man sentenced to the penitentiary had been allowed to make the trip by himself.

R. G. Dunn & Co. Announcement Shows Increase of 300 Per Cent Over 1920.

Thirty-five business failures in St. Louis during the first quarter of 1921 were reported today by the local office of R. G. Dunn & Co. The total indebtedness of these firms was $1,270,000. For the same period of 1920 there were six failures with a total indebtedness of $150,000. Twenty-eight failures with a total indebtedness of $1,158,000 were reported for the last quarter of 1920.

The list of failures for the first quarter includes 10 concerns manufacturing various articles, five garment firms, clothing, a lumber company, shoes, a motor car company and a butcher shop.

In the last quarter of 1920 the garment trade was more affected than any other. Seven failures in that line with a total indebtedness of $205,000 were reported here. The firms that failed in the first quarter of 1920 were a meat market, an advertising agency, a contractor, a toy manufacturer, a restaurant, and a garment manufacturer.

The total number of insolvencies reported in the United States for the first quarter of 1921 were 4370 with an aggregate indebtedness of $174,589,953. There were 1427 failures with an indebtedness of $23,702,499 for the same period of 1920.

After Lorus McDermott, 24 years old, of St. Louis, had pleaded guilty of embezzlement in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville yesterday afternoon and had been sentenced to an indeterminate period of from one to 14 years in the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester, Sheriff George E. Little escorted him to the front door of the courthouse, gave him transportation and $5 and wished him "a pleasant trip."

McDermott, unaccompanied, went to the depot and boarded a train for Chester. Last night the Warden of the penitentiary notified Sheriff Little by telephone that McDermott had presented himself at the prison and was being "dressed in." "I knew he would keep his word," was the Sheriff's comment.

McDermott formerly was traffic agent at Granite City for the Illinois Traction System (McKinley lines) and in the spring of 1919 his accounts became tangled. He fled to Los Angeles, where he was arrested in June of the same year. The company alleged that his accounts were short about $3500. McDermott admitted there was a discrepancy, but said that he was not responsible for the full amount. MORE THAN $5000 IN SILKS STOLEN BY FIVE BURGLARS

Watchman Sees Robbers
Drive Away With Loot, Fails to Notify Police and

HOLE CUT THROUGH 6-INCH FIRE WALL

Washington Avenue Place
Entered by Men After Breaking Into the Store
Next Door.

After robbers had ransacked three stores in the office of the Kirkpatrick Bros. Showcase Co., 1118 Washington avenue, last night, and found nothing of value, they cut a hole 18 inches square through a six-inch fire wall into the store of the Nussbaum Silk Co., and carried off a quantity of silk. Officers of the company said today the value of the stolen goods was more than $5000, and might be as high as $20,000. An inventory was being taken.

The thieves were detected from making off with 146 additional bolts of silk, valued at about $10,000, by the appearance of George Heberle, watchman for the Rico-Stix Dry Goods Co., who, seeing five men and an automobile truck in the alley, went over to see what was going on. The men drove away, leaving the silk piled up in the rear of the Kirkpatrick establishment.

Heberle fired no shots at the men, and did not notify the police of what he had seen. The fact of the robbery was not reported until the porter at Kirkpatrick's arrived an hour and a half later—at 7 a. m. After learning of these circumstances Capt. Doyle of the Central District today suspended Heberle. The latter said that he did not call the police because he had lost his patrol key. All of the silk which the robbers took away, as well as the 146 bolts which they left behind, was removed through the 18-inch aperture in the fire wall, the thieves evidently fearing to disturb the doors or windows of the Nussbaum establishment, which is equipped with a burglar alarm system. The silk was carried out through the rear door of the Kirkpatrick place, which was forced open.

Saw Men Drive Away.

Heberle noticed the automobile truck circling the block, and then saw it drive into the alley in the rear of Washington avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, at 5:30 a. m. It had stopped in the rear of Kirkpatrick's when he approached. Four of the occupants were in it when it drove away. The fifth ran.

54 WOMEN ELECTION CLERKS

Six Party Tickets in Field in East St. Louis Township.

Fifty-four women are acting as clerks at the polling places for the township election in East St. Louis. Fifty-eight polling places opened at 8 a. m. today and will close at 4 p. m. Six parties have placed tickets in the field for the following offices: Police Magistrate, five justices of the Peace, five Constables, 18 Assistant Supervisors and a Park Commissioner. The Farmer-Labor and the Citizens' Nonpartisan tickets are the only complete tickets. The Citizens' Nonpartisan ticket is a Republican-Democratic fusion ticket.

majority, which in last November's election ran as high as 56,000 on some local offices. It was believed that the Democratic candidates for the Board of Aldermen would have little chance of election. Byrnes has made a campaign practically independent of the rest of the Democratic ticket, and has enlisted a large independent support and a portion of the Republican vote.

Byrnes and Kiel Vote. Byrnes voted at 9 a. m. and Mayor Kiel at 9:30 a. m. Byrnes, who resides at 3809 West Pine boulevard, voted in the Twenty-first Precinct, Seventeenth Ward, the polling place of which is at 3715 Laclede avenue. Mayor Kiel, who resides at 1625 Missouri avenue, voted at 1636 South Jefferson avenue, which is the polling place of the Tenth Precinct, Fifteenth Ward. Byrnes said that he voted the Democratic ticket and the Nonpartisan School Board ticket. Mayor Kiel voted the Republican ticket.

A man who lives somewhere on Washington Terrace went early to the Ninth Precinct of the Twenty-eighth Ward at 5577 Delmar boulevard and wanted to vote against prohibition. He was told that prohibition was not an issue this time. He said all right, he just didn't want to overlook any chances. The proposal for an increase in the school tax rate, from 10 to 15 cents on the $100 valuation, will be voted upon Friday, at a special election in which only taxpayers are entitled to vote.

Byrnes and Spencer Make Final Talks to Precinct Workers. Talks to meetings of Democratic and Republican precinct workers last night were made by James Byrnes. He made a platform for Mayor or a nonpartisan platform, and United States Senator Spencer, speaking in behalf of Mayor Kiel's campaign for a third term. Byrnes, speaking at precinct organization meetings in the Tenth and Thirteenth Wards, mentioned the fact that yesterday was his fifty-third birthday, from him. He repeated his prediction that Republican leaders allied with the Burksam primary campaign, who had not felt that they could afford to come out publicly against Kiel, would nevertheless mark their own ballots for Byrnes. Byrnes spoke to a midday meeting of employees of the Scahill Steel Co.

Senator Spencer, speaking before the Twenty-fifth Ward precinct organization at King's big way and Manchester avenue, repeated his warning that the defeat of Mayor Kiel would be taken, outside St. Louis, as a repudiation of the National and State Republican administration.

He could even see where it might cause the danger of a Democratic President in 1924. Henry S. Caulfield, speaking at same meeting, said that former Judge H. S. Friesel, former counsel of the United Railways, was one of Byrnes' chief backers.

Activities on Deputy Collector at Polling Place Complained Of. Oscar C. Mackwitz of 1907 Papin street, a public accountant, complained to the Election Board that Harry Bischoff, a Deputy in Collector Koehn's office, was inside the polling place of the Seventh Ward, Fourteenth Precinct, at 811 South Eighteenth street, engaging in activities which should be left to the election officials. He said Bischoff took the ballot from voters and placed them in the ballot box. He also said Bischoff was aiding negro voters in preparing their ballots, or was preparing ballots for them. He demanded that Bischoff, if present as a challenger, should be restricted to a challenger's activities. Mackwitz said he was challenged by Bischoff, though he has lived at his present residence for several years and was duly registered, because his name, by some mistake, had not been placed on the printed list for the precinct. He said that when Bischoff objected to depositing his ballot, he placed it in the box himself.

House and, although it was said the visit was one of courtesy, the two held an extended conference. The question of declaring peace by resolution has figured persistently in gossip among officials here regarding the visit of M. Viviani, but it is not indicated what part the advice of the allied governments may have played in influencing a decision. Those associated with M. Viviani repeatedly have denied that the real purpose of his pilgrimage was to plead that there be no separate peace, but he is known to be hopeful that the peace settlement may provide for some sort of cooperative agreement with the allies. It is taken for granted that he has urged these views in his conversations with American officials.

VIVIANI STATES PURPOSE OF HIS AMERICAN VISIT

Says He Came to Sound Public Opinion Here and to Inform People of Conditions in France.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Rene Viviani, former Premier of France, in a statement today to the Associated Press said the purpose of his visit to the United States was to sound public opinion in America and inform the American people of conditions in France.

The French envoy expressed gratification at the sentiment favorable to France he had observed from leading public officials in the legal and political discussions which involved the peace treaty.

The statement of the former French Premier was the first he has made since his arrival in the United States in which the purpose of his mission was set forth. In connection with his conference here, M. Viviani said he had authorized no one to state conclusions he had drawn, presumably having reference to dispatches published here and abroad purporting to outline his views.

M. Viviani's statement was carefully prepared in French and the following is a translation of it: "M. Viviani, who since his arrival in Washington has been received by numerous notables, has been greatly touched by the cordiality which all have shown to him, a cordiality which was extended through him to France, of which he is the representative. He has heard much and has responded as best he could in view of his mission, which is to inform the American people of the condition of France and to inform himself concerning American opinion."

He has observed with deep feeling in the course of the legal and political discussions which involved the treaty of peace, a unanimous sentiment favorable to France, for which in recognition of her past valiance and present difficulty all America has preserved its affection.

"In the course of these different conferences and for the sole purpose of conversation, M. Viviani has been obliged to envisage every hypothesis, even those which his opinion opposes to the end of

U. S. WARRANT SAYS LA PIERRE MADE FALSE AFFIDAVIT

He is Accused of Swearing
Once That He Was Born
in Italy, Then That He Was Born in U. S.

RECEIVER CHARGES HIM WITH THREATS

Bruno Appears at Hearing of Head of Bankrupt Concern With Detectives to Guard Him.

A Federal warrant charging the making of a false affidavit was issued yesterday against Arthur P. La Pierre, president of the Lyre-ola Manufacturing Co., 1504 Pine street, who was taken in custody last Thursday to prevent his going to Italy pending bankruptcy proceedings against his company.

It is alleged that on March 16, in applying for passports for himself, his wife and their three children, La Pierre made affidavit in the office of the Clerk of the Federal Court that he was born in the United States and that on March 19, 1917, in applying for citizenship papers, he made affidavit in the Naturalization Bureau that he was born in Gioiosa, Sicilia, Italy.

The penalty for making a false affidavit regarding citizenship is a fine of $1000 or not more than two years in the penitentiary, or both fine and imprisonment.

Shortly after noon today La Pierre appeared at the United States Marshal's office in the Federal building. Commissioner Mitchell had been at $2500, which La Pierre furnished.

When the hearing of the bankruptcy case was resumed yesterday afternoon in the office of Referee Coles in the Security Building, two city detectives were present to guard the receiver of the defunct company, Alfred S. Bruno, who had informed Chief of Detectives Hannegan that he had been threatened by La Pierre.

La Pierre yesterday displayed the same unfamiliarity with the proceedings of his company that he did last Thursday, when he was taken to the Referee's office by a Deputy United States Marshal. His favorite reply to questions put to him by Alva Trueblood, attorney for the receiver, was, "I was familiar with a little of everything but nothing in particular."

Unable to identify books. At one stage of the examination yesterday, when La Pierre had said he could not identify books of the company, Referee Coles looked at him sharply and asked, "Do you mean to say that you cannot recognize the writing of your bookkeeper?"

In reply La Pierre mumbled something about not being familiar with the company's accounts. La Pierre was asked if it was not a fact that the receipts of the company from February, 1920, to February, 1921, amounted to $138,930.

"I don't know," he replied. "Some months the business ran to $3000 or $4000 and again it amounted to only $1000."

In response to a question from Trueblood, who was reading from entries in the cash book of the company, he denied that he had received as much as $19,403.30 in the same period.

La Pierre said that his salary as president of the company was $50 a week, but that he did not always get what was coming to him. When asked to explain that statement, he said that on several occasions he advanced money to the company. His statement was called to entries in the cash book showing that the credit and debit sides of his personal account balanced to the penny.

"Well, as I said before, I don't know what the books show," he said. "I do know that I lost about $15,000 in the concern."

Asked About Merchandise. He was asked what had become of merchandise valued at $52,000 which, according to an inventory made at the time, were in possession of the company, Feb. 28. He said that about $15,000 worth of property had been stored in a warehouse at Jefferson and Chouteau avenues as security for a loan of $2500 which he had obtained from the Franklin Bank. He said that was done after he had resigned as president of the company, and when the affairs of the company were in charge of an attorney representing creditors. He denied knowing what had become of machinery valued at $21,535, which the inventory showed was in the company's factory Feb. 28.

He was shown what purported to be the copy of minutes of a stockholders' meeting held last July, when the capitalization of the company was increased from $50,000 to $112,500, but he insisted that he had not attended the meeting, and he knew nothing about it.

At the request of Attorney Trueblood the hearing was continued until Thursday afternoon, and La Pierre was directed to return to the Referee's office at that time for further examination.

Sold Home to F. C. Herbst. As is known, La Pierre first came to public notice March 8, when Frank C. Herbst, president of the Herbst Store Fixture Co., was mysteriously shot and killed when backing his automobile from the garage in the rear of his home at 625 King's said he believed Herbst had been mistaken for him by the slayer.

Instructions to Voters on How to Prepare Their Ballots

POLLING will be open until 7 p. m. in all the 600 precincts. Each voter receives four tickets—Republican, Democratic, Socialist and Nonpartisan. No voter may vote more than one ticket, the three others must be returned to the judges after the voter has prepared his or her ballot.

Each of the three party tickets bears the names of that party's candidate for Mayor, Comptroller and 14 members of the Board of Aldermen, and has blank spaces for the names of candidates for the Board of Education.

The Nonpartisan ticket has blank spaces for the names of candidates for Mayor, Comptroller and Aldermen, and the names of four candidates for one two-year term.

Those using party tickets can copy the names of five Board of Education candidates from the party ballot. Those using the Nonpartisan ticket can copy names of candidates for Mayor, Comptroller and Aldermen from the party ballot. Every voter is entitled to vote on contests for Aldermen in all of the 14 odd-numbered wards.

If Nonpartisan ticket be used, the voter must scratch eight names of candidates for full terms, Board of Education, and three names of candidates for short term, leaving four for full term and one for short term, the number to be elected.

Voters who favor James W. Byrnes for Mayor, and otherwise wish to vote for the Republican candidates, will use the Republican ticket, scratching the names of Henry W. Kiel and William Byrnes' name beneath it. The same method is to be followed by those voting either of the three party ballots in scratching any candidate and writing in the name of an opponent, which should be copied from the ballot on which it is printed.

It is not enough merely to write in the name of a candidate; the name printed on the ballot must be scratched, or the vote will not be counted for that office.

In writing names of candidates on ballots, it is best to write the names just as it is printed on the ticket on which it appears. This is particularly necessary as to two of the candidates, who have similar names (Stephen M. Wagner and Mrs. Harry E. Wagner).

Initiative proposal to constitute not more than eight hours a day's work for permanent employees in city classified service, is on each ticket, below names of candidates. This is the freemen's eight-hour proposal. To vote "Yes," scratch "No." To vote "No," scratch "Yes."

SECOND WILL CUT OFF DEVOT GRANDCHILDREN

Change Made by Mrs. Edward Devo After She Made Bequests, Lawyer Testifies.

The fact that the late Mrs. Edward Devo of 5327 Cates avenue, subsequent to the death of her husband, made a will bequeathing $5000 to each of two grandchildren and later destroyed it and made another will cutting off the grandchildren was disclosed today in depositions taken before Special Commissioner Charles F. Krone in the will contest suit filed by Charles L. Devo. He is a brother of Mrs. Mary Estelle Cartwright, to whom Mrs. Devo left her entire estate valued at about $172,000.

Charles L. Devo and Mrs. Cartwright are children of Mrs. Devo. John P. Leahy, attorney for Mrs. Cartwright and the Devo estate, testified that he drew up both wills. He said that when the second will was drawn Mrs. Devo remarked to him that she did not want to leave any money to the two children of her son, Joseph Devo, who had been mentioned in the previous will and that she explained that "they would go through it quickly."

The only reference she made to her son, Charles L. Devo, when the will was drawn, Leahy said, was that he was "46 years old and should have looked out for himself."

Leahy was questioned at length concerning the part Mrs. Cartwright had taken in her mother's financial affairs after the death of her father. Leahy said that she was a faithful and loving daughter, that she attended to some business details for her mother, but that "Mrs. Devo had a mind of her own and managed her own affairs."

Leahy said that Edward Devo had advanced large sums of money to his three sons—Joseph, Charles and George—and that Mrs. Devo was aware of that fact.

Leahy was asked to relate the circumstances of the alteration at the Devo home March 27, when Leahy broke a glass panel in the front door and Charles Devo flourished a revolver.

"My wife had gone to the house to get some things and Charles Devo beat her and his sister, Mrs. Cartwright," said Leahy. "When I smashed the door glass he leveled the revolver at me."

Charles Devo sat across the table from Leahy when the latter was testifying.

The hearing will be resumed Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Cartwright will be questioned.

MEXICANS DEPORT RADICAL

Linn A. E. Gale Objects to Being Sent to America.

By the Associated Press. VERA CRUZ, April 5.—Linn A. E. Gale, an American radical, who arrived here yesterday, following the issuance of orders for his expulsion from Mexico, was put on a train bound for Guatemala this morning. He begged the Mexican authorities not to send him to the United States, where, he believed, he would be placed under arrest.

Assertions that influential friends were making an effort to obtain his freedom were made yesterday by Gale when he was interviewed by the Associated Press. Confirmation of these declarations could not be obtained by the correspondent. Gale was rather evasive during the interview. He insisted his name was not Gale, but "Wurtenberfeld." He declared he was a German.

mobile from La Pierre and had moved into the home only five days before he was killed. La Pierre demanded and obtained access to the transaction, telling Herbst that he was involved in financial troubles and wanted to leave the city. When questioned by the police, La Pierre said he believed Herbst had been mistaken for him by the slayer.

CLAIMS OF LAMPERT EMPLOYEES ARE PAID

D. A. Jamison, Preparatory to Surrendering Executorship, Files Statement in Court.

Dorsey A. Jamison, executor under the will of the late Jacob Lampert, cigar manufacturer, filed a settlement today in the Probate Court preparatory to surrendering assets of the estate to Henry A. Baker, appointed temporary administrator pending a will contest filed by 11 collateral heirs of the testator.

Among the items in the settlement were claims of $754.75 each paid to Emil Weinberger and Fred Hach, employees of Lampert. These claims were based on profits in the cigar business during the year 1920 and from Jan. 1 to Feb. 19 of this year. Lampert, in his will, stated that for several years he had been sharing the profits of his business with these two employees. The settlement shows that each was receiving one-fourth of the net profits. For the year 1920 their shares were $553.41 each and for the ensuing three weeks $144.31 each. The report indicates that the net profits of the business for last year amounted to $22,232.76, of which Lampert's share was one-half. Weinberger and Hach now are the owners, having purchased the business since Lampert's death for $27,000.

According to Jamison's settlement the total par value of the estate is $1,568,995, from which he has paid out $41,029.63 in claims, leaving a balance of $1,527,965.37. Since taking charge of the estate he received in the month of March $422.25 dividends from some of Lampert's stock holdings and additional dividends of $504.50 which were due at the time of his death. Lampert died Feb. 12, leaving the bulk of his estate to a sister, Mrs. Rose Graff, 5349 Pershing avenue.

Friday is to be a public school holiday and teachers will devote their efforts to getting out a large vote.

FREDERICK W. LEHMANN
LOSES $600 WINE STOCK

Burglars Carried Property Away in Car They Had Parked in Alley.

Frederick W. Lehmann of 10 Benton place, former Solicitor-General of the United States, was robbed of his private stock of wine last Friday night by burglars, who broke in through a rear basement door while members of the family and servants were away. Lehmann estimated the loss at $600, which he said was covered by insurance.

The burglary was discovered by the family shortly after their return home at 11 p. m. In addition to the basement door the door of a locked basement room had been forced to gain access to the wine. Neighbors said that a motor car had stopped in the alley at the rear of the house shortly before the family's return. The police were not notified. Lehmann, who was out of the city at the time, said that members of his family were awaiting his return before reporting the matter.

10,894 ATTACKS IN YEAR
ATTRIBUTED TO SINN FEIN

By the Associated Press. LONDON, April 5.—Startling figures of outrages attributed to the Sinn Fein during the year ending March 31, were given by Denis Henry, Attorney-General for Ireland, in the House of Commons yesterday in reply to a question. The figures showed a steady increase of killings and wounding of police and military forces, quarter by quarter.

In the last quarter of the year there were 2486 attacks. Eighty-eight policemen were killed and 158 wounded, while 44 soldiers were killed and 84 wounded. The total of attacks during the year was given as 10,894. The police loss in killed totaled 212, the wounded 3210. The soldiers killed numbered 90 and the wounded 202.

PUPILS ARE ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN FOR HIGHER SCHOOL TAX

High School and Grade Students Delivering One-Minute Addresses at Factories and Meetings.

PRECINCT BLOCK WORKERS ALSO BUSY

It Is Set Forth That Increase, to Be Voted on Friday, Is Not for Salaries, but for School Expansion.

Interest in the school tax election which will be held Friday is being stimulated by a well organized group of ward, precinct and block workers, and the school children are taking an active part in the campaign. High School pupils are delivering addresses in factories and the grade school pupils are making one-minute speeches at mass meetings which are being held nightly in school buildings throughout the city.

In addition, the children are preparing literature setting forth the urgent need of more school revenue and are distributing doggers in their respective neighborhoods.

It is being pointed out that the purpose of voting to increase the school tax from 75 cents to 85 cents on the $100 valuation is not to increase salaries but to relieve a congested condition which is acting as a serious detriment to the education of nearly 10,000 children. More than 6500 children are housed in portable buildings and more than 1200 are attending half-day sessions. The number of children attending grammar and high schools is increasing steadily, demanding more teachers, more rooms, more supplies.

Yeatman High School, which was built to accommodate 50 pupils, has an enrollment of more than 1500. The St. Louis school tax is one of the lowest in the United States. Cleveland has a revenue of $10,000,000 annually besides a $15,000,000 school bond issue, and the public schools of Boston have an annual income of $14,500,000. If the increased tax asked for here is granted the schools will have $3,625,000 for next year's budget. If the proposition fails to carry the tax would revert to the constitutional limit of 75 cents per $100, giving the schools a revenue of only $6,425,000.

Indorsements received yesterday by the School Tax Campaign Committee included those of the Benton School Fathers' Club; Carpenters' Union, 73; Ellardville Civil League, Rock Springs School Patrons' Association, Woodward School Patrons' Association, and the St. Louis School Teachers' Association.

Friday is to be a public school holiday and teachers will devote their efforts to getting out a large vote.

POLICE RECOVER $10,000 WORTH OF STOLEN FURS

Pieces Identified as Part of $21,000 Loot of Friend Co. Robbery Found in Outbuilding.

48 NEW SHIRTS FOUND WITH FURS

Articles Believed to Have Been Stolen in Burglary of Manufacturing Company Wareroom.

Furs valued at $10,000 and identified as part of $21,000 worth stolen March 27 from the Friend Hide and Fur Co., 416 South Commercial street, were recovered at 3 a. m. today by Detectives Murphy and Roach, who found them in six large gunny sacks in a brick outbuilding in the rear of 1414 North Thirteenth street.

Adolph Berkowitz, who lives at that address and has a wife and seven children, was arrested. He denied knowledge of the fur thefts and of their storage on his premises.

The detectives, who had been working on the case for several days, learned that two large shipping cases had been delivered at 1424 North Thirteenth street. They went there and found the cases empty in the yard. Believing that the cases would be filled and removed, they kept an all-night vigil. Early this morning they searched the Berkowitz home and premises. They noticed that there were two brick buildings in the yard. Apparently they had not been used for a long time, as the doors were boarded up. They broke into these buildings and found the furs in one of them. The other was empty.

Besides the furs they found 48 new shirts believed to have been stolen from a manufacturing company in a burglary reported about two weeks ago.

Thomas Paulus of 3328 Lemp avenue, who was night watchman at the Friend Hide and Fur Co. plant, is under indictment on a charge of complicity in the fur theft.

Paulus reported that at 8 a. m. March 27, there was a knock on the store door, and when he opened it two men entered with revolvers, overpowered him, and tied him to a chair and robbed the store.

Paulus was arrested, and was recognized by Detective Murphy as having been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He also had been charged with highway robbery, but the prosecuting witness failed to appear, and that charge was dropped.

An important factor in causing Paulus' indictment was the fact that although Paulus said the robbery was committed at 4 a. m., it was shown that one of the stolen furs was found lying on the sidewalk near the store at 7:30 a. m., indicating that the theft was committed earlier than the time given by Paulus in his report to the police.

$7,000,000 RAISED BY SALE OF FOOD DRAFTS

Hoover Letter, Ordering Sale Stopped, Says, 1,000,000 People Have Been Relieved.

Sale of the American Relief Administration Food Drafts is to be discontinued after April 30, it is stated in a letter received by A. O. Wilson, vice president of the State National Bank, from Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration. The letter states that a survey of economic conditions in the five European countries served by the food draft has been completed, and that conditions indicate that the purpose of the food draft has been fulfilled.

"The Government of each of these countries is in process of discharging control of food trade or contemplating doing so at an early date," the letter says. "This will relieve the economic situation which was the determining factor in creating the food draft plan."

The letter also announces that in the past 14 months approximately 280,000 drafts have been sold, representing just short of $7,000,000 in foodstuffs, delivered in the five countries where the relief administration has been operating.

"The number of people relieved is difficult to estimate, but it would not be far short to say that food has been provided for about 1,000,000 persons without call upon general charity," the letter adds.

Food drafts presented at the New York office after April 30 will be subject to refund upon receipt of confirmation from the European warehouses that the food called for on the drafts has not been delivered, the letter states, and if drafts issued prior to April 30 are lost, duplicates will be issued up to June 15. All banks are instructed in the letter to destroy all of the blank food drafts after April 30.

"ROOF OF WORLD" TO BE EXPLORED

British Expedition to Try to Climb Highest of Mountains,
Everest of Himalayas.

LONDON, April 1.—"A great adventure, as wonderful as any that has been undertaken," says the Observer.
"starts this month with the departure from England of five members of the Royal Geographical Society and Alpine Club for the expedition through unknown country in Tibet to climb Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world—29,000 feet altitude, about five miles and a half."

This party of five consists of Col.
Howard Bury, who has been chosen as chief; Harold Raeburn, head of the mountaineering expedition; Mr.
Finch, and Mr. Mallory, both also mountaineers; and Dr. Wollaston, who, besides being medical charge,
will look after the botanic and other scientific interests.

They will meet in India next month the three other members of the expedition, Mr. Moorhead and Mr. Wheeler, whose services have been lent by the Government of India for the survey work; and Dr.
Kellas, who is a great Himalayan mountaineer and has climbed several peaks in the range. A large number of coolies will be engaged and the Government will lend mules for carrying the food, tents, and all the equipment of the expedition into Tibet.

By Way of Tibet.
The start for Mount Everest will be made from Darjeeling, probably about the middle of May. Prof. J.
Norman Collie, president of the Alpine Club, told a reporter for the Observer. The party will go over the snow passes into Tibet, and approach
Mount Everest from the north.

The distance from Darjeeling to the base of the mountain is between 200 and 300 miles. In Tibet the mules will be replaced by yaks, and the yak is the native cow of Tibet, which will climb as high as 20,000 feet.
Few villages will be passed on the way. Except at the points where the rivers will be purchased, the country through which the expedition is to pass is utterly desolate and unexplored. This year the chief part of the work will be reconnaissance, that is to say, exploring the valleys that lead up to Mount Everest and from the head of one of them finding the least difficult way of ascent.

From one of the valleys an attempt will be made to climb as high as possible. Probably, Prof. Collie said, it will not be practicable, in view of the limited time and the initial difficulties to be overcome, to get to the top this year, but it is hoped, if possible, to break the mountaineering record, which is now held by the Duke of the Abruzzi, who climbed to a height of 24,619 feet on a mountain about a thousand miles west of Everest.

The party will stop as long as possible, and probably will not return to Darjeeling until October. Next year, with the accumulated experience and the knowledge obtained by the work of reconnaissance, a really determined and fully equipped attempt will be made to climb to the top of Mount Everest.

Importance of Expedition.
From this outline of the plans that have been made, Prof. Collie turned to the enormous importance of the expedition.
"First of all," he said, "there is the mountaineering point of view. There are some of the highest unknown mountains in the world to be discovered, and possibly a record ascent of Mount Everest to be made.
The top of the mountain is about 4000 feet higher than the peak which the Duke of the Abruzzi climbed. It is time that Great Britain regained the mountaineering record."

"From the geographical point of view there are thousands of square miles of entirely unknown and un-mapped country through part of which the expedition will pass. Geologically it is important to know the character of the strata in a country which has the highest mountains in the world."

"There are also the zoological and botanical interests. It is almost certain that there will be found a very large number of rodents—probably exceeding 50 per cent—new to science; and there are bound to be discovered new Alpine flora."

"The cost of the expedition will be about $50,000. For this sum the results from all these scientific points of view will be wonderfully cheap—
the cheapest, I think, that have ever been obtained."

FISHERMAN DIES AFTER SAVING COMPANION IN HEAVY STORM

Survivor Tells of Struggle in Water
When Both Were Swept Overboard From Smack.

By the Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 1.—How John Gaberlin, a fisherman, gave his life for a fellow workman was told here today by Joseph Vidovich, the man he rescued. Both were swept overboard from the fishing smack
Santa Lucia Sunday night in a heavy storm. They caught some nets sweep-over at the same time and pulled their way along these toward the boat until Vidovich became exhausted. After that Gaberlin held to his companion with one hand and edged toward the vessel with the other and his feet. The only other man aboard was injured, but stayed at the wheel.
After a bitter struggle Gaberlin put Vidovich over the rail and clambered after.

"I have helped you all I can," he said. "I am going to die now."
Then, Vidovich said, Gaberlin fell to the deck, dying almost at once.
Another vessel towed the Santa Lucia
to port last night.

BIRDS BECOMING LESS TIMID, EDUCATOR SAYS

Superintendent of Illinois Public Schools Praises Trend Toward Friendliness With Wild Fowl.

The Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—Timidity of birds, which 10 years ago kept several Illinois species beyond the reach and out of sight of man, has been greatly overcome by the humanizing influence of Arbor and Bird days in Illinois, Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said here today.

School boys and their parents, who not many years ago came largely under the same classification as "enemies of birds," are today their staunch friends, Blair added.

Pointing to the 42 bird houses which Gov. Len Small and his daughter, Mrs. Arthur E. English, have just provided on the spacious grounds of the executive mansion, Supt. Blair illustrated his idea that Americans are becoming more kindly in spirit, and then went on to preach a lay sermon.

"Throughout Illinois," he said, "school boys and girls are doing the same thing. They are caring for birds, housing and feeding them, treating them kindly."

Birds Were Afraid.

"Ten years ago one could not see a woodthrush, except by creeping by stealth into the brush, and until this very day we have not overcome the fear of the hermit thrush."

"The attitude of man has changed, and the birds have responded. Ten years ago, while at Charleston, on the Ambro River, I noted how timid the woodthrush was. Just a few days ago I looked again for the woodthrush at Charleston, and he hopped quite fearlessly in the very door yards."

"Why? There are several reasons. We have stopped killing birds. Just as the teachers at the Charleston State Normal School and the women and children there, we have others all over the State, champions for the birds. They are preaching that birds are the enemies of no one. Instead of killing them, they today sacrifice the bird-killing cats. And boys, once the persecutors of these little songsters, now virtually ostracize the boy who dares kill them. Their mercy extends even to the English sparrow."

All Birds Will Be Tame.

"All our birds will yield to this new spirit of Christianity. I honestly believe that the hermit thrush will follow the woodthrush, and show again the friendliness he had before man was his enemy. Blackbirds and crows are the only birds against whom there is the slightest objection, yet they eat but little grain and do vastly more service to man than the value of what they consume."

"Comradeship with birds is springing up. Love of them, as the love for flowers, is no longer professed by just women and children, but strong men acknowledge their joy in song and the sight of the bird and the beauty of the flower. They are our universal heritages. Like the shade tree along the road, they are no particular person's property, but the property of us all, in common."

"Housing for birds is the endeavor of thousands of our school children. Added to this, it is needless now that they provide winter food for such birds as the Kentucky cardinal, which stays in Illinois all winter, and that they provide bird baths in summer. Unless some provision to water the birds is made many of them must suffer this year."

Birds Need Water.

"Years ago Illinois, especially this section of it, was dotted with swamp lands. Drainage has reclaimed nearly all of it, and birds in many places will seek in vain for cooling water in the hot months before us."

"Having taken the swamps from them, it is only just that we make amends. It doesn't matter much what sort of receptacle is used. At our home we use a bird bath that doesn't rust. Many times over we are repaid on hot summer days to see the dear creatures frisk about and plunge into the water, totally unafraid of us."

"I expect the school children that have provided houses for the birds will nearly all follow me this year in making more bird baths. These children have found friends they will keep."

ST. LUKE ART SOCIETY WILL GIVE "IDEAL PLAY" ANNUALLY

Organization Is Also Forming "Traveling Art Museum" for Pupils of Catholic Schools.

The St. Luke Art Society, one of whose aims is to foster a higher standard of dramatic art, at a meeting of its Board of Directors yesterday, at the Queen's Daughters Community House, voted to enter the producers' field and present an ideal play annually. Its first performance will be "Eager Heart," a mystery play, at the Odessa, April 22. Miss Jennie M. A. Jones and Miss Marie R. Garesche were selected to direct and manage the play.

The society has in process of formation "A little traveling art museum" which will be sent to Catholic schools for the benefit of the pupils. It will contain replicas of noted pictures and samples of the best textile work, such as lace, woven products, basketry and pottery. A loan exhibit of 250 pictures, embracing reproductions of masterpieces and examples of ancient and modern architecture, was unveiled at the meeting. It will remain at the Queen's Daughters, 3730 Lindell boulevard, for the next 10 days.

SUNDAY EUCHRES AT SCHOOLS OPPOSED

Ministers Also Against Encouraging Dances in the Buildings.

A complaint against the giving of entertainments at the public schools on Sunday, and a request that teachers be instructed not to encourage or promote dances by pupils, were made to the Committee on Instruction of the Board of Education by a delegation of ministers from the Church Federation yesterday afternoon.

The ministers were especially moved by a report that a euchre and lotto was given at the Lafayette School on a recent Sunday afternoon by a pupils' association. The Rev. Martin Haw, who headed the delegation, said he heard a euchre also was given at another school last Sunday, but he had not verified that.

Regarding class dances, the ministers said that the announcing of these dances by teachers lent a sort of official approval to them, and encouraged dancing among pupils whose parents objected. The members of the Committee on Public Instruction said they had not known of the lotto and euchre parties, and would investigate.

The ministerial delegation also protested against the sale at the schools of tickets to outside entertainments, and said tickets to a particularly unsavory moving picture were recently sold at a large number of schools, the picture being given under the auspices of a parents' association.

WEEK'S ORPHEUM BILL A REAL VARIETY SHOW

Juggling, Dancing, Singing, Monologue, Social Events, Comedy and Melodrama on View.

The Orpheum bill this week is a crazy quilt patchwork of a little of everything, including some real acting. It is fairly bewildering in its variety, and includes two novelties, Harry Conley's small town sketch, with scenic effects, entitled "Rich and Old Shoes," and Emily Ann Wellman's intensely melodramatic playlet, "The Actor's Wife," a most ambitious production, which contains 10 scenes without a change of stage setting. This is achieved by lighting different parts of the stage as the action progresses. The play lacks unity but has several real thrills and makes women weep.

The Conley offering is a clever piece of character acting, in which Conley furnishes the grotesque touches and Naomi Ray contributes grace and beauty. Their ride to the parsonage on a motor cycle is a scenic treat.

Shelia Terry, who has not yet selected her spring hostess, has a full stage dancing act with Harry Peterson and Morris Lloyd. Grace de Mar returns with her monologue, with lines which have not been changed since her last appearance here, except for a few topical references.

Elsie White sings and makes rapid costume changes. Emma Francis and Harold Kennedy do whirlwind dancing. Willie Hale and Brother are jugglers and Indian club throwers and the four Lamy Brothers have a good triple bar act.

The entire proceeds of a special benefit performance at the Orpheum Theater next Friday afternoon will be devoted to the sick and needy fund of the National Vaudeville Artists.

STATE'S POLITICAL PENDULUM SWINGS BACK TO DEMOCRATS

Township Elections in Four Counties That Went Republican in 1919, Give Democratic Leads.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 8.—
Semi-official returns from last Tuesday's township elections that have reached here indicate that the political pendulum has started its return swing.

Returns from Chillicothe, which is in Livingston County, indicate that the Democrats carried the city last week by a vote of 1125 to 556,
where they lost it to the Republicans
in 1919 by a vote of 526 to 645.

Reates County, formerly a Democratic stronghold, which went Republican in 1919 as well as last November, when 9 of 13 county officers elected were Republicans, went Democratic Tuesday by a majority estimated at 492, the Republicans electing only four or five township officers in the county, while one township that has been Republican for 14 years went Democratic by a slight majority.

The unofficial returns from Sullivan County show that Republicans from all over the county ran 476
votes behind the Democrats, or 169
behind the Republican vote last November.

Linn County, another Republican county last fall, returned a Democratic vote of 232 to 210 Tuesday in Locust township as against a Republican majority of more than 100
in 1919.

Democrats remaining in the State capital have been talking of little else this week except the results of the township elections.

STANDARD OIL CO. RETAINS CLAIM TO SERVICE STATION

Effort to Have License to Site on Versailles Road Revoked Fails.

Special File to the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, April 8.—The first battle in the war between rival American and British oil interests, represented by the Standard Oil Co. and the Royal Dutch Co., has been fought over a tiny shanty in the historic park of Saint Cloud, where gasoline is supplied to automobiles going to Versailles. A vote on the disputed point was taken in the Chamber of Deputies and the Standard Oil retains possession of the tactical point.

The underground conflict between the two vast organizations was exposed by Deputy Gast, representing the Department of the Seine and the Oise, who had had a controversy with Lisle Palmer of the Standard Oil Co. over the Saint Cloud hut. The two men had an acrimonious interview and as a result M. Gast asked the chamber to cancel the concession granted the company to construct their gasoline station.

There was a strong sentiment in favor of revoking the concession in the chamber until Minister of Agriculture Lefebvre du Prey explained that he had investigated the circumstances under which it had been granted, ascertaining that no corrupt influences had been employed, and although he personally opposed according concessions in the national parks to private companies, that right had been conceded by his predecessor, and he was bound to maintain it. The Chamber then ratified the concession by a vote of 271 to 225.

SIELCKEN PROPERTY RETURNED

Heirs Get Possession of $5,000,000
Estate Seized During War.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Attorney-General has authorized return to the heirs of Herman Sielcken of New York property valued at approximately $5,000,000 seized by the Alien Property Custodian during the war. At the same time the return to his widow of her own property valued at about $1,000,000 was ordered.

Sielcken, who was German born,
was unable to prove American citizenship. Evidence was produced
after his death to show he was naturalized in San Francisco, but lost his citizenship papers when shipwrecked on a voyage from South America.

Removes Hair Growths
Without Pain or Bothers

(Modes of Today)

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delicate hand you can keep the skin entirely free from these beauty destroyers. To make a stiff paste with a little powdered dilatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. No guard against disappointment, be careful to get real dilatone. Mix fresh as wanted.

TRIAL OF PLANTER ON MURDER CHARGE OPENS

Georgian Alleged to Have Caused Killing of Negroes to Prevent Peonage Evidence.

By the Associated Press.
COVINGTON, Ga., April 5.—John S. Williams, Jasper County farmer, charged in the confession of his negro farm boss, Clyde Manning, with having caused the murder of 11 of his negro farm hands to prevent evidence against him for alleged peonage, was placed on trial in Circuit Court here today on a charge of murder of one of the slain negroes. An augmented force of 16 deputies had been mobilized to preserve order in the courtroom and arrangements made for a capacity crowd.

Judge John B. Hutchison overruled counsel's plea that there had not been sufficient time to prepare the defense.

Judge Hutchison warned spectators that the slightest manifestation of approval or disapproval during proceedings would be severely dealt with. More than a score of witnesses were understood to have been summoned by the State, by whom it expects to support Manning's story of the killings. Selection of a jury from the 108 veniremen summoned by Judge John B. Hutchison, presiding, was expected to occupy most of the first day's session. Assisting Solicitor-General A. M. Brand in the prosecution are W. M. Howard, former Representative from the Eighth Congressional District of Georgia, and Graham Wright, Assistant State's Attorney-General. Williams will be defended by Green F. Johnson of Monticello, Ga.

FRENCH THREATEN TO FALL UPON GERMANS' 'COAL CELLAR'

Premier Says Action Will Be Taken If They Continue to Resist Reparations Payment.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 4.—Premier Briand, speaking in the Senate this afternoon, said the negotiations opened by the Germans with the United States regarding reparations constituted their last resort in the systematic resistance to the payment of their obligations, but that after May 1, if they continued to resist, "the strong hand of France will fall upon their coal cellar."

"The Germans have tried every way to divide the allies," said the Premier. "When they saw every effort to this end had failed," he continued, "they turned to the associate who had generously shed blood side by side with the allies for the common cause, hoping to bring forth means of action against us. But the noble people who sent millions of their children across the seas to fight for an ideal are not the kind disposed to desert, or to be turned aside by propaganda from the path they have freely chosen."

AMERICAN LEGION REJECTS K. OF C. MEMORIAL OFFER

Former Service Men Decide Not to Accept $4,000,000 Offer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BALTIMORE, April 4.—After a joint conference today among the board of directors of the Knights of Columbus, headed by Supreme Knight James A. Fishery of Philadelphia, and a committee representing the American Legion it was announced that the Legion had rejected the offer of $4,000,000 from the knights to build a national World War memorial in this city.

It was generally known that differences of opinion regarding control of the memorial arose almost immediately after the offer came from the Knights. For several months there has been an interchange of ideas, but to no purpose. To settle the matter definitely, it was decided to hold a joint conference today.

The Knights had specified in their original offer that ownership of the war memorial would be vested in the Legion, but should be controlled by a joint board. This proposal meant that the Knights would be permanently represented on such a board. This was the proposal which brought about the rejection by the Legion. The Knights declined to withdraw this stipulation and the matter ended there, so far as the memorial is concerned.

GANZ DEPARTS AFTER TWO-DAY VISIT HERE

New Symphony Conductor Stresses Necessity of Establishing Financial Guarantee.

Rudolph Ganz, new conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, departed for New York today after a two-day visit to the city.

He spoke, as honor guest, yesterday noon at a luncheon in Hotel Statler given by nine civic organizations led by the end art of Commerce, and again last night at a reception at the Wednesday Club given by the St. Louis Symphony Society.

Ganz emphasized at noon the necessity of establishing a three-year financial guarantee for the orchestra before plans for its musical advancement can be undertaken. In his night talk, he spoke in general terms of his aspirations for the orchestra, much as he previously had in interviews in the Post-Dispatch. It is known that he hopes to lengthen the orchestra's season, widen the range of the orchestra's tours and extend its influence in the city itself by means of added children's, public school and workingmen's concerts. He mentioned, in his noon address, his belief that the orchestra should go to Mexico City for a series of concerts and, in this connection, spoke of music as an agency of international amelioration.

He noted the fact that the Art Museum is supported by a mill tax and remarked, "That gives me an idea," which, however, he did not expand. He touched upon his views as conductor only briefly. "My entire strength and spiritual power shall be given into my work," he said. "I shall work for the so-called emotional excitement. Everyone is entitled to that if he likes it. I am going to try to thrill you as much as art will permit. Sensational successes are wonderful once in a while, but in the end art for art's sake must prevail. Only legitimate means will accomplish success."

He declared that the best expression of his gratitude for the warmth of his reception in St. Louis was his determination to make his home here.

At the conclusion of Ganz's talk, Morton May, president of the Associated Retailers, announced that his organization had pledged $6000 a year toward the annual $30,000 guarantee which is desired for the orchestra.

SELPH TELLS POSTMASTERS HOW HE 'HUMANIZED' OFFICE

Made Men Wear Caps and Aprons and Women Flat-Heeled Shoes Over Their Protest.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Postmaster Colin M. Selph of St. Louis told the conference of postmasters here today that he had "humanized" the employees of the St. Louis post-office by compelling the men to wear caps and aprons, and the women to wear flat-heeled shoes and uniforms. He admitted, however, that the employees themselves regarded it as "Prussianism" when he instituted the regulations. They "understand" now, he said.

Recommendation that some change be made so as to open to all the special clerks list at a salary of $2100 and not confine it as at present to those with distributing experience was made, and H. H. Billings, the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, was instructed by Mr. Hayes to ascertain why postmasters were not allowed to select the rural carriers, as they do the city carriers, the former now being appointed by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General here.

The matter of raising the civil service examination requirement for clerks also was brought up.

Some method of handling more expeditiously special parcel post packages was gone into. Other matters suggested were transferring custody of postoffice buildings from the Treasury to the Postoffice Department and methods of securing the co-operation of the public in every possible way.

SEAL WORKERS AID SCHOOL TAX

One Hundred Women and Girls Register Canvass Today.

More than 100 women and girls, workers in last year's Christmas seal campaign and members of the Open Air School Committee of the Tuberculosis Society, have been organized into a School Tax Pledge Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur J. Leber and Mrs. Ernest Jones, chairmen, respectively, of the two committees, to canvass Catholic, Lutheran and private day schools as well as the public schools in the interest of the school tax increase.

These women are distributing pledge cards to the children today, which are to be taken home to fathers and mothers to be signed and returned Thursday to the committee. The cards pledge the signers to vote "yes" on the school tax amendment at the special election Friday.

"Allen A" Means Uniform Value even in Children's Hosiery

If a merchant had to face the darning basket as a mother does, he would not put up with the uncertain quality of children's stockings overnight.

He would go right down to the store and do away with his typical mixture of brands and odd lots—standardizing instead on one line of uniform and dependable value.

Thousands of merchants are already doing precisely this thing—concentrating on "Allen A."

It is giving them the Hosiery business of the town.

The Label of "Allen A" is the new mark of the Maker's identification and responsibility on the famous BLACK CAT HOSIERY.

"Allen," the name of the Makers; their personal pledge of responsibility to you. And "A"—the standard mark of first and finest grade.

Any merchant can do the same thing—buying "Allen A" Hosiery direct from the Mills.

This "Allen A" Service is more than thirty years old.

It will pay you to tell your merchant that "Allen A" is the Hosiery Service you have been looking for.

PRESIDENT ORDERS
INVESTIGATION INTO CARE
OF WOUNDED MENAsks Commission Headed by Dawes to Find Out Where Government Agencies
Have Failed.SAYS COMPLAINTS
HAVE BEEN NUMEROUSRequests That Judgment Be Passed on Program Adopted and That Recommendations
Be Made.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Harding today asked his special commission, headed by Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, to make "diligent inquiry" of Government department heads in an effort to find out just where the Government agencies have been "lacking in authority, neglectful or failing" in caring for disabled service men. He also asked that investigation be made of "the abuses which have developed."

The President's request was in the form of a statement which was recommended at the first meeting of the commission by Dawes, who called on the President today at the White House. The commission chairman announced that the President's request would be carried out to the letter and that the inquiry would not be directed into controversial or extended subjects.

President's Statement.
"I have asked you to meet and make an investigation into the administration of the law for caring for the crippled and injured soldiers of the late world war," said the President's statement. "There have been numerous complaints that the Government is neglecting the becoming care of these defenders, to whom it owes every obligation. I feel that there is further complaint that there is tardiness in dealing with them and their claims which grew out of their service."

"I should like you to make diligent inquiry of department heads or with those associated with them in an effort to find out just where the Government agencies are in any way lacking in authority, neglectful or failing to carry out what is the unquestioned intent of Congress in the enactment of laws and the making of appropriations. There need be no inquiry into the intent of the Government, because I think it is well understood that every agency is determined to deal justly and generously with those of its defenders who were injured in the nation's defense."

"Inquiry into Abuses."
"I think it would be well, while you are making inquiry as to the failure to care for these service men that you also make inquiry into the abuses which have developed, and deal carefully into the regulations adopted so that you may know their probable effect in the future. It is well to realize that the American people want to prove the republic's gratitude to these men.""The regulations adopted at this time are likely to be in effect for a half century to come. In order to deal justly with these men and carry out a permanent policy it is exceedingly important to start on a firm foundation."
"I have asked Brigadier-General Lyster to meet with your committee and make available to you such information as you may desire which he has gathered as the representative of the executive in investigating the relations of the several departments of Government dealing with this problem. I do not imagine your committee will care to enter into a widely extended taking of testimony, but that you will be able to gather from department heads and officials responsible for the service such information as you may require and make recommendations as to our future course."

Japanese Exclusion League of California Outlines Its PolicyRepresentative of Organization Departs for Washington to Urge Action by the Harding Administration.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Japanese exclusion league of California has outlined a policy for protection of American interests in connection with the subject of Japanese immigration and will urge action by the new Federal administration in accordance with such a policy, it is announced here.

The principles outlined by the league have been endorsed formally by the two affiliated organizations, the Los Angeles County Anti-Asiatic Association and the Japanese Exclusion League of Washington.

As a representative of the California League, V. S. McClatchy departed last night for Washington to present the matter to the State Department and to Congress.

The four points of the league's policy are:

1. Absolute exclusion for the future of all Japanese immigration not only male, but female, and not only laborers, skilled and unskilled, but farmers and men of small trades and professions, as recommended by Theodore Roosevelt.

2. Such exclusion to be enforced by the United States officials, under

United States laws and regulations, as is done with immigration, admitted or excluded, from all other countries, and, as at present, under an arrangement whereby control and regulation is surrendered to Japan.

3. THOMAS' NEWEST PLAY MAKES STRONG APPEALStory Depicts Man's Murder by Suspicious Husband; False
Finger Print Evidence.

By Leased Wire From the New York

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Augustus Thomas, whose pen seems somehow to draw its inspiration from a spot just a little nearer to the hearts of American men and women than any one of our active playwrights, now turns over for the public gaze a drama of unmistakable human appeal, one that will find a ready response whenever or wherever it may be seen. One, too, it must be said, that will attract alongside that response, a very definite impression that it could, in some way, have been rounded into even a more satisfying, more compelling tragedy of real life.

His latest, "Nemesis," seen for the first time last night at the Hudson Theater, as presented under the direction of George M. Cohan, deals fascinatingly and profoundly with elements with which the fire of the normal life is kindred—love, hatred, revenge. And it does more. It goes to the bottom of the theory upon which our authorities base their claim for arrival at the most positive state of certainty in the conviction of men for murder on circumstantial evidence—the fingerprint system. And then it lays bare the author's contention that this system cannot be infallible.

Into the life of the well-to-do, honest, hard-thinking Mr. Kallan and that of his beautiful and impulsive wife, Marcia, there comes Mr. Jovaine, a sculptor, whose artistic attainments have attracted and lured the wife into secret meetings, both in her home and his studio. The husband suspects more than a friendly association. Higher and higher mounts his suspicions as he first finds a letter from Jovaine to his wife, in which it is planned to abandon him and go to Paris. The subterfuge of the modeling of a bust in clay of his wife in Jovaine's studio adds to his slowly gathered chain of evidence, and the husband in their home confronts his wife with his knowledge of their affairs. She at first attempts to evade, then confesses and he kills her.

Emmet Corrigan, the husband, here enacts one of the most distinctly gripping scenes contained in any dramatic production presented in New York this season. He methodically takes from his pocket three rubber finger stamplings which he had stamped the finger prints of Jovaine, the sculptor, taken from a chunk of clay which Jovaine has used in modeling the bust. He places them upon his fingers, grips the file with which he has slain his wife and carefully touches the door knob, an overtured chair, the jewel-covered dressing table, the weapon itself and leaves.

Proceeding to the street, he talks with a policeman before the house, awaiting the arrival of Jovaine, whom he had forced his wife to invite to her home, and another bit of evidence against the sculptor is cemented when Jovaine arrives, enters the house and leaves again, the policeman looking on.

The final act shows a scene in the Court of General Sessions eight months later, with Jovaine on trial for the murder of Marcia, and the finger-prints as the State's principal evidence. A final scene is before the gates of Sing Sing, with Kallan, who has been sentenced to death in the electric chair, explaining to the District Attorney the possibility of the real method he had used to deceive the jury.

Much as each act of this play contains in expertness of writing and in excellence of acting, there remains an undeniable impression of unaccountable choice of staff through the shabbiness of the final scene at Sing Sing's gates, or the fact that the slayer, Kallan, failed to give his audience cred for understanding his scheme without so full a recital of his daring enterprise?

One thing is certain. The acting of Emmet Corrigan as the determined, sorrowing, heart-broken husband was without a flaw. That of Olive Tell, as the wife, could scarcely have been more satisfactory. And Pedro de Cordoba, played the part of the sculptor with a skill and an absorbing court scene as truly as Mr. Thomas could have desired. In the first and second acts Miss Elizabeth Woodruff, the sympathetic Marcia, contributed admirably to the tone of things, and deservedly received a large share of the audience's applause.

There are scenes in "Nemesis" which stand out as classics of conception and execution, and the argument which the playwright set out to impress upon those who see the play is well-nigh indisputable. Marc Goff, Ethel Whitford, Roland Botto, Frank M. Readick, John Grogan, Robert Cummings as the lawyer, Charles P. Baine as counsel for the defense, and G. Clayton Frye did their duties well.

AMERICAN RED CROSS PRAISED
AT INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCEResolution Expresses Gratitude for Work Achieved by Organization
After the War.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, April 4.—The American Red Cross was the recipient of high tribute at the meeting today of the international Red Cross conference. Deputy Michell proposed the following resolution, which was adopted by the assembly:

"The tenth Red Cross conference expresses its profound gratitude for the exceptional and admirable work achieved by the American Red Cross during and since the war."

Senator Cirocco said that not only as president of the Italian Red Cross but as a private citizen he wished to thank the Americans. Mme. Rispin of Poland expressed the same feeling.

Dr. Livingston Farrand, chief of the American Red Cross Council, in returning thanks, said that the generosity and support of the American public permitted the carrying on of the great work. The smaller committee of the Red Cross Association, he added, also were doing useful work.

MASONIC ORDER TO BUILD HOSPITAL
IN ST. LOUIS'Shriners' Choose City as Site
for Institution to Be Constructed for Care of Crippled Children.PLAN TO MAKE IT
UNIT OF GROUP OF 4Proposal Further Is to Turn
It Over to the Sole Administration of Washington University.

St. Louis has been chosen as the site of a hospital for the care of crippled children, recently adopted by the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a Masonic order whose members are known as "Shriners," as the charity to which it would devote national effort.

The decision also is to establish the hospital, if possible, as a fourth unit of the group at Scott and Euclid avenues, which now consists of Barnes Hospital, St. Louis Children's Hospital and the School of Medicine of Washington University.

The plan further is to turn over the hospital to the sole administration of Washington University under conditions similar to those under which the order in the United States and Canada. The project now is for the erection of a 150-bed hospital as the first unit of the new institution, in addition to it as the need becomes apparent and funds accrue. It is understood that the building fund now contains $1,000,000, or sufficient for beginning work at once.

Barnes Hospital is a 200-bed hospital. The type of construction for the "Shriners" hospital, it is believed, will be to conform with the building already in the group.

An Imposing Group.
The site for the new Jewish Hospital, which is to be erected on King's highway between Forest Park boulevard and Parkway place at a cost of $1,500,000, is in close proximity to the Washington University group and to St. John's Hospital. The erection of the "Shriners" hospital as a part of the Washington University group would add a fifth building to the already imposing architectural collection.

Under the plan, the trustees of Washington University will have direction of the manner of its operation and choice of staff through the faculty of the university's school of medicine. Dr. Nathaniel Allison, dean of the university's school of medicine, has refused to discuss the project, but he has agreed to learn the truth. Maybe proper knowledge would obviate much propaganda service and expense.

In view of the fact that New Orleans, Boston, Chicago, El Paso, Cincinnati, Naco, Ariz., and Houston delegations have recently visited the Red Cross building in St. Louis, it is not surprising that the possibilities of first-hand information would impair such letter writing.

As stated in the purposes of our trip, the St. Louis delegation is purely one of friendship made by business men of this city without any ulterior or unstated motives in view. We intend to make it clear that this is not political in nature and we do not intend to discuss the question of American recognition. Our duty is one of St. Louis to Mexico, and not especially that of promoting any special group interests.

Says Experience Is Desirable.
"The acquisition by Americans of the full understanding of Mexican conditions by experience rather than through well-placed propaganda would be a desirable feature of the trip, even if our excursion was of a political nature. Unfortunately, the long years of misunderstanding and difficulties—some of them cultured—between this Government and that of Mexico have been aided by certain groups inflicting their viewpoint through cleverly conceived news items."

"This trip of the Chamber of Commerce does not carry with it the thought of complete approval of all Mexican conditions any more than a trip to Europe would have the significance of extending approval of continental conditions. Granting that all of the facts as to American rights and Mexican governmental conditions, as stated in Mr. Smith's letter are true, we cannot see where the St. Louis trip at all affects this."

The plan is for the admission of children under 17 years to the hospital. The chairman of the national committee which selected St. Louis was Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, Tex. Henry Niedringhaus Jr. is chairman of the St. Louis committee.

CARTER REPLIES TO

That C. of C. Mission Was

Does Not Want Americans to Learn True Conditions
or to Recognize Mexico.

Eighty members of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce will depart at 7 o'clock tonight on a trade and educational mission to Mexico, where they will make an extensive investigation of commercial conditions, and the prospects for future trade.

On the eve of their departure President W. Frank Carter of the Chamber today issued a statement, replying to a letter received Saturday from the American Association of Mexico, which protested that the mission is inopportune. Carter bluntly declared the letter to be propaganda, and intimated that the American Association of Mexico was not desiring a friendly understanding between this country and Mexico.

Restrictions Complained Of.
Much of the letter consisted of complaints against the provisions of the Mexican Constitution restricting the control of Mexican oil lands by foreigners.

"Copies of this letter," Carter's statement says, "evidently were mailed to all newspapers at the same time, the main object being publicity of a propaganda nature."

"Unfortunately, though, and perhaps as planned, it comes upon the eve of our trip to Mexico and might not be altered in any way by any changes which may take place in the internal policies of the country."

Every responsible group, particularly the workmen of Germany, are imbued with the determination to do all that lies in their power to help in reconstructing the regions which have been devastated. Fundamental to this determination is the sober conviction on the part of responsible circles in Germany that an early removal of all traces of the devastation caused in France is in the best interest of Germany. It is the consensus of opinion also that the proposals made by Germany in regard to reconstruction must consider fully the financial necessities of the allied and associated Governments, and particularly of France.

In view of the foregoing, two considerations present themselves, both of which are of importance. These are: first, the matter of the rehabilitation of the devastated regions, and second, the immediate establishment by Germany of an actual sum of cash money, in foreign exchange, of important proportions.

Devastation in France.
"In addressing ourselves to the first particular, namely, the rehabilitation of the devastated regions, certain facts are at once apparent. For four years, 10 of the 86 departments of France served as the theater of the war and sustained the severest blows of the conflict. In these 10 departments a number of cities, towns and villages are either partly or entirely destroyed, and wide stretches of fertile, farming lands were laid waste. Only a little has been accomplished towards the rebuilding of homes, the reoccupation and the reclamation of the land in the two years that have elapsed since the ending of the war. The immediate rehabilitation of these devastated regions Germany has repeatedly proffered labor, technical advice and material assistance. These offers have not been accepted, nor have they even reached the point of diplomatic exchange. The reason is not far to seek."

"Peculiar though it may seem, there exists in France only a limited degree of concern for the rehabilitation of the devastated regions. Advanced indemnities have been given to the former occupants of the soil, and these occupants have removed to other parts of the country and taken up their abode there. The salvaging of the abandoned war materials, and the cleaning up of the war area, has been undertaken by influential groups of promoters who are engaged in no effort to expedite the performance of their contracts. The fact that the influential opinion in France sees in the devastated regions a profitable opportunity for a political agitation which will always make a deep impression upon the minds of the people of France and foreigners, has an important bearing on the issue."

"The German Government does not desire to see hate perpetuated between nations. In accordance with this purpose it intends to submit fresh proposals on this subject to the Government of France, the details of which are under consideration and the subject of discussion with the laborers of Germany. Should the Government of France entertain objections to the employment of numbers of German laborers in the areas undergoing reconstruction, the Government of Germany stands ready to offer to France goods and resources in whatever form is acceptable."

"In respect to the second consideration, namely, the immediate establishment by Germany of an actual sum of cash money, in foreign exchange, of important proportions, it is obvious that Germany can fulfill this obligation only through large increases in the volume of her exports. The memorandum prepared by the economic experts of Germany for use at the conference in London demonstrates how large an increase in Germany's exports necessarily would be to obtain, and the volume of her exports, it is further remains that the sums in cash money could not be immediately realized."

Other Considerations.
"Other considerations have been advanced at various times, among them the proposal that our former opponents in the great war should participate in the returns from German industry, either through taking shares in the industrial concerns, or through the sharing of profits. Such a proposal would produce only a small amount of cash money, and would be established in strict lines so far as it is possible. This would enable the Judges, he said, to make a harmonious boundary of representative districts with due regard for ward boundaries. The two should be extensive, with no ward embraced in more than one legislative district as is now the case, Judge Taylor said.GERMAN NOTE TO WHICH
U. S. REPLIED THAT COUNTRY
MUST MAKE REPARATIONParaphrases of Dr. Simons' Memorandum and Secretary Hughes' Reply Given Out by State Department.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Paraphrases of the informal exchange between the German and American Governments regarding reparations, in which the United States holds Germany "morally bound to make reparation, so far as may be possible," were made public yesterday at the State Department.

Describing the German communication as an "unequivocal expression" of the recognition of the obligation of the German Government to make reparation, so far as may be possible, the American reply expresses the hope that renewed negotiations which Germany says it plans to institute, "may lead to a prompt settlement which will at the same time satisfy the just claims of the allies and permit Germany hopefully to renew its productive activities."

Following is a paraphrase prepared by the State Department of the memorandum given to Loring Drexler, American Commissioner at Berlin, by Dr. Simons:

"It is the earnest desire of the Government of Germany to reach an agreement with the allied and associated Powers, and it is sincere in its purpose to meet their requirements as far as possible. That an agreement should be reached at the conference of London on the question of reparations is a matter of extreme regret to the Government of Germany. In their efforts to reach an agreement the delegates from Germany went far beyond the limit considered possible for Germany in the judgment of an overwhelming majority of her economic experts."

"It has been asserted that Germany is reluctant to recognize her obligation to make reparations. This is not correct."

Reference to Obligation.
"It is entirely clear not only to the Government of Germany, but to the German people also that Germany must make reparation to the limit of her ability to pay. This obligation on the part of Germany will not be altered in any way by any changes which may take place in the internal policies of the country."

Every responsible group, particularly the workmen of Germany, are imbued with the determination to do all that lies in their power to help in reconstructing the regions which have been devastated. Fundamental to this determination is the sober conviction on the part of responsible circles in Germany that an early removal of all traces of the devastation caused in France is in the best interest of Germany. GRAND JURY REFUSES TO INDICT DUNN ON CHARGE OF WORKING ON SUNDAY

BALTIMORE, April 6.—The grand jury has refused to indict Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore International, on charges of working on Sundays in a baseball game at Oriole Park here on April 3. Efforts are being made by various Sunday observance organizations to suppress ball-playing here on the Sabbath, but thus far without success.

DUNCAN AND MITCHELL TO PLAY IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 5.—The first Western matches in this country of George Duncan, British open golf champion, and Abe Mitchell have been booked for the Muehle Country Club here on July 24. It was announced today. They will play against Phil Gaudin and Charles "Chick" Evans, if the latter accepts. SMITH SUFFERS INJURY IN FALL THROUGH ROPES

MONTREAL, April 5.—Sergeant Ray Smith, the American heavyweight, suffered a slight concussion of the brain when he and his opponent, Eddie Ricard of Montreal, fell through the ropes during the second round of a bout here last night. Tilden to Be Honored.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—William T. Tilden II, world's tennis champion, will be guest of honor at a dinner to be held here tonight under the auspices of the Philadelphia and District Lawn Tennis Association. All members of the victorious Davis Cup team, with the exception of William M. Johnston, who is in California, will gather at the celebration to mark the homecoming of the man who won the Renshaw Cup, emblematic of the world's title, at Wimbledon, England, and who contributed so largely toward bringing the famous Davis Cup to the United States from Australia. In addition to Tilden, the Davis team members to be present are Capt. Sam Harriss, Norris Williams II, and Charles "Chuck" Garland.

Loss of Reynolds Hurts.

The loss of Reynolds, the Pennsylvania high jumper, will be a serious blow to the red and blue track team, especially in view of the fact that they are going to have on their hands in the intercollegiate with Cornell and Princeton. The difficulty with Reynolds is an aftermath of an attack of typhoid which he had last fall.

Harvard in Line.

Not to be outdone by Ohio State, Columbia or the new Ithaca School of Physical Education, Harvard, under William H. Geer, is planning an intensive course for instructors of physical education and athletic directors, as well as coaches, this summer. The course runs from July 5 to Aug. 11, and will cover not only general exercise, but specifically the matter of coaching and conduct of athletics in schools and universities.

For this occasion, the greatest sporting event of the year, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad will have special service leaving St. Louis 9:45 P. M. Friday, May 6th. Drawing room, compartment, open section sleepers and free reclining chair cars have been arranged. Tickets and Pullman reservations for both going and return trip can be secured now at L. & N. City Ticket Office, 318 Broadway, or see George Herring in charge, 1206 Boatmen's Bank Building. Phones, Olive 2800, or Central 8000.

SPRING.

THE robin now comes as a token of spring with its beautiful flowers.

The backbone of winter is broken—and so is ours.

The bluebird, the wren and the linnet are hopping around in the yards.

While roosters are asking, "Who'll win it?"

The Browns or the Cards?"

On Saturday, likewise on Sunday.

The Cards put the Browns away; But they didn't wait them Monday As they didn't play.

With mid-season "pep" and precision.

The knotholders hope to come clean;

But whether they get the decision Remains to be seen.

QUITE SO.

Geographically speaking, Orange is two up on Bogalusa.

As Kipling would say—

THE cities are full of pride,

Challenging each to each;

But it cannot be denied That Orange is a peach.

However, Bogalusa is not downhearted.

Until the tide turns she will say nothing but savdust.

There were 25,000 customers, mostly cash, at the Sunday festivities. Everybody was there but the gamblers.

GOOD WORK.

A PLEASANT time was had by all including Messrs. Quinn and Ball; For while the Browns lost the game.

They got the shekels Just the same.

The work of May would indicate that the Cards are set for a banner month.

Chicago is in the throes of another six-day bike race. Demonstration that there are worse things than crime waves.

Derrill Pratt will join the Red Sox if he can get his release from Ann Arbor. Coaching is all right until the spring crop of long green begins to scent the air.

TOUGH LUCK.

THERE was a young fellow named Pratt

Who swung a piteferous bat;

He would like to be free To play ball for France

But he doesn't know where he is at.

Now that bricks are coming down we'll look to see a few houses go up.

Our old friend, Cozy Dolan, was pinched the other day for slugging an umpire down south. Indicating that Cozy has cut the mustard pie comedy and gone in for the Lambs Club stuff as taught in the McGraw school of intensive baseball.

NATIONALS THREATEN TO CALL OFF GIANT GAMES; BALK ON UMPIRE BRENNAN

NEW YORK, April 5.—Calling off of the exhibition series between the New York Nationals and the Washington American League club was imminent today, dispatches from Jackson, Tenn., said. As a result of the Senators' action in quitting the game yesterday after a dispute over Umpire Brennan's decision.

The Washington club was called off the field in the third inning of their game with the Giants by Manager McBride after he protested Brennan's decisions, and had been ordered off the field.

The game was declared won by the Giants on forfeit.

Manager McGraw, who said he had been informed that the Washington club would not continue the series if Brennan remained in the game, is reported to have said that he would not consent to the arbitrator's removal. He added that his club would appear in all cities where games were scheduled with the Washingtonians, and that if the latter failed to appear he would file claims with Judge Landis for damages.

The clubs are scheduled to play in Knoxville, Tenn., Petersburg and Norfolk, Va., and Washington, winding up in this city next Saturday and Sunday.

Kabakoff Floors McMillan Three Times, but Fails to Put Him Out

"Grudge" Between Two Local Lightweights Sees Ghetto Ghost Give Heavier Opponent Savage Pounding in Eight Rounds

—Bobby Keene of Frisco Makes Good Showing.

By John E. Wray.

HARRY KABAKOFF, the "Ghetto Ghost," came back at the expense of Joe McMillan at the Armory last night, savagely pounding his grudge rival into practical helplessness in eight rounds of desperate mugging.

At the final bell McMillan was grappling and hanging on, almost limp from the ceaseless fire of two-fisted jolts handed him by his foe in all but two periods of the contest.

Floored once in the first round, twice in the second round and weakened from a continued and profuse nose-bleed, started in the initial session by Kabby's left, McMillan failed to make the showing against the fast little Hebrew that he did during their first encounter several weeks ago.

In only two rounds, the third and fourth, did he hold his own, and then seemingly because Kabby had fought himself out in the preceding sessions trying to put away the tough bit of humanity in front of him.

At the close the men were gory spectacles, due, however, merely to savagely butted and mugged each other from rope to rope. Their eagerness caused much wrestling, butting and hitting while holding; but the fighters were so evidently weak, spot-fall, body-three hard blows in succession. The "ghost" flitted away from him and had to fling SOME to get away from the swings and hooks that whistled about his ears.

McMillan First to Score.

McMillan, who was heavier and stronger than his rival when they went to it at the going, started out to finish Kabby quickly. He wasted right in and smashed the Ghetto boy's weak spot—the body—three hard blows in succession. The "ghost" flitted away from him and had to fling SOME to get away from the swings and hooks that whistled about his ears.

Then Kabby steadied and began to meet McMillan as he rushed. As Joe wildly tore in, Kabakoff planted his vinegar full of lefts. McMillan backed off and Kabby lunged at him with his left. As McMillan was moving away the blow fell short of its destination, landing low and to the left. The referee, who was promptly stopped the battle and asked McMillan if he were hurt. Joe took a little time out, but went at it again. The referee, who was promptly stopped the battle and asked McMillan if he were hurt. Joe took a little time out, but went at it again.

Lewis Proves Too Strong for Pesek In Mat Title Bout

With Headlock Barred, Wrestling Champion Is Several Times Near Defeat.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis retained his world's heavyweight wrestling championship by pinning down "Tiger Man" Pesek with a bar and hammer lock, after one hour 34 minutes and 32 seconds of terrific grappling in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory last night.

Pesek nearly had Lewis down at the very start, after a fierce attack and several times thereafter Lewis escaped only after rolling out of the ring into the press box. The end was a surprise.

The men did not get started until a lively row over what constituted a near-headlock. When Joe Humphries announced that the "side chancery" was barred, the wrestling elite set up a dreadful din. Lewis being the hero and the crowd feeling that he was at a disadvantage, they flat to the floor. The Strangler grunted, grimaced and finally threw Lewis only to be brought to the floor again with the same lock.

Pesek Not Strong Enough.
This time, too, Lewis wriggled free. Pesek seemingly not having strength enough to hold the man whose headlock was barred because it was too good. Twice following this, Pesek brought Lewis down, but could not hold him, though Lewis had been wriggled into the press row to escape the Nebraska.

Lewis brought Pesek down after 10 minutes and seemed to have a good grip when the "Tiger Man" clawed his way from beneath. It was a pretty escape and would have been disastrous for Lewis had he been dumped over in any position save against the ring posts, where he brought up.

In less than 20 minutes the "Tiger Man" had secured no less than seven double wrist locks, all of which made the "Strangler" do anything but smile. A toe hold near the half-hour mark all but broke the "Strangler's" leg and heart simultaneously. He got away after taking a chance at snapping his leg.

Cup for World's Open Championship Planned By Decatur Golf Club

DECATUR, Ill., April 5.—The Decatur Business Men's Golf Association will offer a perpetual trophy for the world's open golf championship along the same lines of the Davis Cup in tennis, it was announced today.

This was said to be the first world's golf trophy ever offered and was expected to go a long way in bringing golf under one set of rules.

BASEBALL CLIQUE NOT YET UNCOVERED MADE $300,000, LAWYERS SAY

CHICAGO, April 5.—Promises of a new expose in the baseball scandal came from an unexpected quarter yesterday, when attorneys defending the eight Chicago White Sox players indicted with 19 others for conspiracy in the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series announced that they had uncovered a "real scandal" in which men hitherto not mentioned in the case had won more than $200,000 on the series. The seven players indicted were not implicated in this, the lawyers intimated.

The statements were made by Attorneys Benedict Short and Michael Ahern, when they made a motion before Judge Charles A. McDonald for reduction in bail of the defendants. Judge McDonald reduced the bail for Eddie Ciolek, Claude Williams, Buck Weaver, Swede Risberg, Oscar Felsch, Fred McMullin and Joe Jackson, White Sox players, from a maximum of $45,000 each to $7500, but announced he would permit no reduction in the cases of the alleged gamblers.

Mr. Short and Mr. Ahern refused to go into details concerning their charges of a new scandal but promised that the full particulars would be made public when the case is brought to trial.

Country Club Course to Be Four Strokes Harder for Title Event

Changes Being Made Under Direction of Golf Architects and Grass Doctors for National Championship Event Affect a Majority of the Eighteen Holes.

By John E. Wray.

EASTERN golfers and mid-West players, too, particularly those who did not attend the Trans-Mississippi golf event here, two years ago, when Dick Bockenamp made a marvelous bid for the title, are in for the surprise of their lives if they come here for the national championship late in September.

Then those who actually played over the course in the T.-M. event may have to stiffen up a bit, for the links will not be quite the same as when last they played over it.

Tournament players, new to the U. S. G. A. Championship Committee, will probably encounter the most difficult links in the country. At any rate the Country Club's layout, when it is finally completed and the tees selected by the committee, will require greater accuracy and steadiness than any on which the title event has been held in many campaigns. Formerly difficult enough, by reason of the penalties inflicted on all but accurate golf, the links now require greater distance and still greater accuracy, by reason of the changes being completed.

A foursome, including Stuart Stickney and Clarence Wolff, recently played over the course to note the progress of changes and agreed that the new penalties made the course perhaps four or five strokes more difficult than formerly.

Premium on the "Carry."
The changes in construction, which are noted below in a hole-by-hole description of the championship course, have "swept up" every green so that roll-ups are practically impossible. Golfers must drop onto the respective greens and must do so with a minimum roll.

With a few exceptions each hole now has three tees, while a number have four. The selection of the tees for championship play, and, of course, distances as well, is exclusively completed in the Price Road links.

How Title Course Is Being Changed

No. 1—405 yards: This is a fine "par" hole. Diminishing size of green was only change found advisable.
No. 2—230 yards: No alterations. In its present shape, this is an exceptionally sporty one-shot hole.
No. 3—180 yards: Trap in front of green on right being enlarged and deepened. Trap in front of green on left being extended around toward front of green and enlarged. Green, which will be at all times, will be impossible to roll the ball into the green. Green made smaller.
No. 4—425 yards: New bunker to be built on right side of fairway.

New bunker to be built on right of fairway to catch ball second shot. The trap originally in face of green moved over to right front, to prohibit play from right side of fairway.
No. 5—485 yards: New tee to be built, giving about 20 yards additional distance and making carry greater. New green already completed behind present punch-bowl green, adding another 15 yards to the distance. These changes will make the hole of the three-shot type—drive, bunker, and bunker shot. The new green will be in shape in time for the championship, should the U. S. G. A. Tournament Committee decide to use it.

No. 6—325 yards: New tee to be built, adding about 20 yards distance, and incidentally making the drive a very "tight" one. From this new tee, the drive will be across a road boundary, and the well played tee-shot will, for a short time, carry over out-of-bounds territory. Several additional traps are being built in the face and to the side of the green, almost closing its entrance—calculated to cause more grief to the mislaid second shot.

No. 7—135 yards: New tee built, adding 10 yards to old distance, making the hole a difficult 140-yard mashie or jigger shot.
No. 8—350 yards: No change. Little could be done to make this one more difficult.

No. 9—555 yards: No material change except that the committee might select an extreme back tee which has never been used. The use of this tee would call for three shots to the green. From either of the forward tees, it is a testing two-shot hole.

No. 10—370 yards: Three new traps, all built into the green. One, entirely across rear, to severely penalize over-played second shot. One on each side of the front, almost closing the entrance to the green.

No. 11—395 yards: Large trap built into left-front of green. Old trap to right-front enlarged and deepened. Here the player is left no alternative—he must play "full" to the green.

No. 12—185 yards: This hole is named "The Claret" on account of its deep scarlet-shaped green. It is proposed to build undulations or mounds six or eight feet from and parallel to the outer edge of the green in the shape of a horseshoe or two crescents. The player will have to place his shot inside the horseshoe or crescents to be assured of a good putting surface.

No. 13—575 yards: New tee built, making now, four in all. Diagonally across entire fairway at a distance of 410 yards from championship tee, three large bunkers are built. To escape these bunkers will require two shots with carries of not less than 200 yards each. The trap to the right of the green has been doubled in size and deepened.

No. 14—384 yards: New tee to be built adding about 30 yards distance. From this new tee a carry of 215 yards will be necessary to reach a desirable position on the fairway of same elevation as the green. The player failing to make this carry will either find trouble, or have a blind second shot from the side of a slope.

No. 15—447 yards: New tee to be built giving the committee choice of four tees. From the two forward tees it is possible to reach the green with two fine shots. From either of the back tees it will be considered a three-shot hole.

No. 16—183 yards: Difficult enough in its present shape, but nevertheless the entrance to the green is being narrowed by the enlargement and extension of the traps on each of the right and left sides. All carry from tee to green.

No. 17—366 yards: Considered by many the best hole on the course. No room for improvement.

No. 18—420 yards: Proposed to change course of fairway to the left, to avoid steep embankment in present fairway. The new route will give opportunity for greater distance from the tee, with improved conditions for the second shot to the green. This change will not render hole less difficult, but will rather reward two fine shots.

QUIMET TO JOIN TEAM OF U. S. GOLFERS THAT WILL INVADE ENGLAND

BOSTON, April 5.—America's amateur golfing invasion of England next month gained strength today with the announcement by Francis Quimet, at various times national open, national amateur and French amateur champion, that he would go across.

Business considerations which had bound him previously were removed when his employers added their wish to that of Capt. Bill Fownes of the American team that Quimet join the venture.

It will not be Quimet's first attempt to gain the British classic honors, as after his famous victory over the British masters, Vardon and Ray, in the play-off of the triple tie in the American open championship of 1913 he went to England in 1914 and lost in the second round. He is said to be on his best acup at present, playing once or twice a week, hitting hard and putting truly.

INGROWN NAILS

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself if you Toughest the Skin

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Gutgers" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toenail, that it can penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Gutgers" is a harmless, antiseptic, manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE BEHAPPENED INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS' TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, the sufferer frequently never suspects the real cause of her trouble, but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation, you may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitations, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak will power, melancholy or the "blues," disturbed digestion, loss of appetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases, do not wait until you go all the way down the road of nerve prostration, but eat more stomach and green vegetables, and take organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, with them for a while and see what difference it makes. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron, and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is like iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and other green vegetables, it is not absorbed from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and other green vegetables, it is not absorbed from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and other green vegetables, it is not absorbed from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron.

FRUIT SURPLUS LITTLE AFFECTED BY FREEZE

Apple Crop Damaged Less Than Was at First Believed, Washington Reports.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Apples apparently suffered less from the freeze and frost which swept through the central portion of the country during the last of March than was at first indicated, it was said today at the Department of Agriculture. Reports from state agents to the Bureau of Crop Estimates, it was said, show definitely that the fruit surplus of the country was not materially affected.

Southern sections of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Panhandle section of Texas, however, reported considerable damage. In Missouri the fruit crop was said to have been "hard hit" while Kansas reported all tree fruit destroyed except late-blooming apples. Arkansas said from 55 to 60 per cent of the peach crop was expected, and from 55 to 80 per cent of the strawberry crop. Peaches, pears and apricots were reported as probably a total loss in Southern Illinois, while one-half of this crop was reported destroyed in the central belt. Only the southern section felt any injury to the apple crop. Arizona and New Mexico said the fruit crop prospects were good.

The freezes in Oklahoma were said to have "greatly injured" all fruits, alfalfa, gardens and early corn. Reports from Maryland said peaches, pears, plums and strawberries appeared to have been killed. Delaware peaches were reported "100 per cent lost."

North Carolina said the fruit was saved, but Texas declared considerable damage was done to the peaches and apricots in the Panhandle section. Nebraska reported "few" peaches, pears and plums as a result of the cold and a partial crop of apples and cherries. Tennessee said there was a "heavy loss" to fruit in the middle part of the State, while Iowa said the damage was light. Considerable damage to cherries, pears, plums and peaches was reported in Indiana, with slight damage to apples, while Ohio said peaches appeared to have been damaged to some extent in the lower part of the State.

BRINDELL NOW AT SING SING, A MEMBER OF AWKWARD SQUAD

"Car of Building Trades Unions," Is Convict No. 72,225—Went to Prison in Auto.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Robert P. Brindell, car of the building trades unions, went to Sing Sing prison yesterday to begin serving his sentence of from five to 10 years for extorting $500 from Ephraim Levy, a property owner. As Convict No. 72,225, he spent last night in a cell. This morning, as a member of the awkward squad he began a 10 days' to two weeks assignment at work about the prison yard. Then he will be assigned to the task he will be expected to perform during three years and nine months, after which it will be possible for him to get his release on good behavior.

Brindell went to prison in style befitting his wealth and rank. Preceding him to the prison gates atop Break Heart Hill went his brother, Matthew, and a group of strong men in a new Cadillac sedan. Atop the hill another limousine, containing his children, was waiting to greet him. There Sheriff Knott, who conducted the labor chief in his personal car, paused to permit him to say the goodbyes to the two younger children, was waiting to greet him. Mrs. Brindell did not accompany the party. It was explained she is seriously ill at her home in Daly Avenue, Bronx.

HEAD OF EX-SERVICE MEN'S LEAGUE CONVICTED OF FRAUD

William S. Brewer, Charged With Misuse of Mails and Misrepresentation.

NEW YORK, April 3.—William S. Brewer, director of the "Ex-Service Men's Conservative League," was found guilty in the Federal District Court on all counts of an indictment charging use of the mails to defraud. Brewer was charged with soliciting subscriptions to the league and with employing agents in army and navy uniforms to sell two periodicals, the "Gold and Blue Stars" and "A. E. F. Fun in France." It was charged that he represented money received was for the benefit of former soldiers and sailors, but appropriated it to his own use.

EVIDENCE HEARD IN IRELAND DAMAGE SUIT

Criticism of Book on Late Joseph Pulitzer Basis for $50,000 Action.

By Leased Wire From New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 5.—Alleyne Ireland, one of the secretaries of the late Joseph Pulitzer, testified before Justice McAvoy in the Supreme Court yesterday in his suit against the Chicago Evening Post for $50,000 damages because of its comment on Ireland in 1914 following publication of his book, "Joseph Pulitzer: Reminiscences of a Secretary." The trial will end today when Hugo Winthrop, counsel for the plaintiff, will address the jury. Mr. Pulitzer died Oct. 29, 1911. The action was begun in 1914.

The article containing the alleged libels was signed, "Israel Solon," and was a review of the Ireland book, describing Ireland as an "anonymous" author, though he was a member of important scientific societies and a recognized scientific investigator, and an author of scientific works never challenged for their accuracy or value. The article also treated the Ireland-Pulitzer reminiscence as fiction, and suggested that no man could be so degraded as to submit to the experiences as an employee which Ireland described, and that he had been drawing upon his imagination.

Testimony of Ireland.
Ireland, under cross-examination by Charles S. Barge, attorney for the defendant, who read many extracts from the Ireland book detailing the author's personal experiences with Joseph Pulitzer, told the jury of Mr. Pulitzer's blindness, of his superstitious interest in the occult, of his hidden from his vision, of his repeated cautions to his secretaries to remind them that a thousand matters commonplace to them in their survey of their surroundings might afford many subjects of unusual interest to himself and directing them to scrutinize and remember all that they saw, that he might, thoroughly present it to their employer should it prove appealing to him as a subject of their subsequent conversations.

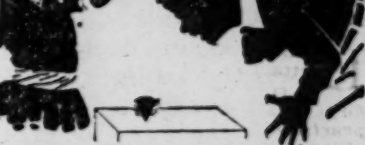

In response to Barge's queries concerning the truth of Ireland's description of Mr. Pulitzer and other matters affecting his employer which palpably made no effort to confine themselves to the eulogistic, Ireland at last interposed an appeal to Justice McAvoy and was permitted to make a statement covering all such portions of his book.

"Solemnly and time and time again," he said, "Mr. Pulitzer warned us that over and above all things, in all we said and all we wrote, he wanted us to follow one rule, and that was 'accuracy, accuracy, accuracy.' I followed his own instructions in writing of him. I submitted my work to Mr. Pulitzer, his widow, and to other members of his family before it was published, and it was published with their unanimous and full consent."

The book is dedicated to Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, the widow.

Ownership a Factor.
Identity of ownership of the Chicago Evening Post became a factor in the proceedings through what apparently is a conflict between the sworn record yearly from 1914 to 1918 of D. E. Towne, on file in the Postoffice Department, which, according to Winthrop, declares the owners of that paper for the years named were Towne, J. C. Shaffer and Carol Shaffer of Evanston, Ill. Winthrop reported that the Shaffers under oath had denied individual ownership, and declared they merely were stockholders of a corporation owning the Chicago Evening Post. The postoffice form requires that if a corporation be named as owner, its title be given and Winthrop said the affidavit of Towne named no corporation, but described ownership as of his own and of the Shaffers only.

THREE INDICTED ON ROBBERY CHARGES HOUR AFTER ARREST

Men Captured as They Flee
After Poolroom Holdup—
Grand Jury Action One of Quickest on Record.

Three young men were indicted on highway robbery charges yesterday afternoon within an hour after their arrest for the holdup of a pool room at 1001 Cass avenue. This is one of the quickest actions ever taken by a grand jury here after an arrest and was made possible because the new grand jury, after being impaneled by Judge Hartmann yesterday, particularly to investigate election frauds, went to work immediately.

Those indicted are Michael Dyrek, 25 years old, of 1422 North Seventh street; Charles Malone, 29, of the same address; and Joseph Salska, 22, of 1505 O'Fallon street.

The police declared that they found on Malone a revolver and $8 in currency which was the amount and denomination of money taken from the pool room proprietors, Edward Moursky, 1021 Howard street, and Frank Mancoski, 1435 North Twelfth street. They identified the prisoners as the three men who had entered the pool room and ordered all within to throw up their hands. The police were notified that a hold-up was in progress, several customers having run out when the robbers entered. Upon the arrival of the police at the front door three men ran out the back door. The men under arrest were found in the alley when the police ran to the rear.

The grand jury also voted indictments against Theodore Turner, charged with robbery in the first degree in the holdup and theft of a watch from Fred E. Fawcett on April 2, and against Grady Steed and Earl Keet, negroes, for first-degree robbery in the holdup of George Barbee, a negro, of Springfield, Mo., who was robbed of $74 and a watch and knife, April 1.

Man Taken to Hospital With Stab Wound in Side.

Daniel Burns, 22, 2816 Park avenue, a decorator, was taken to the City Hospital today at 2:45 a. m. by John C. Drain, 29, 2909 Caroline street, and found to be suffering from a penetrating stab wound below the ninth rib in the left side. His condition is serious.

He related that as he was passing the mouth of an alley on Jefferson avenue between Rutger street and Park avenue, a negro stepped out and ordered him to throw up his hands. He said he struck the negro on the jaw and clinched with him. The negro ran, he said, and he discovered that he had been wounded. Making his way to Park avenue, he met Drain, whom he did not know, and asked him to aid him. The police arrested Drain, and made an investigation which developed nothing to contradict Burns' story and Drain was released.

Burglars took three drums, each containing 22 gallons of grain alcohol, from the Warner-Jenkinson Co., 2526 Baldwin street, last night. They left a fourth drum in an alley in the rear and August Schuester, 3721 Baldwin street, an employee found it there when he arrived for work at 6 a. m. He rolled the drum back into the place. At 6:30, he said, a truck on which four men were riding drove into the alley and stopped. He said that one of the men remarked: "It's gone." The man opened the rear door and looked in. Hearing Schuester, who made a noise to frighten the men, the man ran back to the truck and it was driven away.

Man Robbed on McPherson Avenue. Two men with revolvers took $50 from David Earle, 6026 McPherson avenue, in front of 6040 McPherson avenue, at 3:20 p. m.

Burglars obtained $200 in Liberty bonds, $25 in War Savings Stamps and $20 cash in the Plastic Relief Co., 2247 Dickson street. The report to the police declared that the combination of the safe had been worked.

Burglars took $140, checks for $127 and three rings valued at $25 from a small safe in the home of Edward Thalhammer, 2810 Arlington avenue, and $50 in cash and jewelry valued at $190 in the home of Emil Weinhausen, 1543 North Seventeenth street.
